

Volunteers Make it Happen!

Hopkins Demonstration Forest is a place where people come to learn—it is also a place where people come to work—to learn by doing.

Forests Forever, Inc. relies on volunteers to get things done in our forest. We are proud that many individuals, private businesses and public agencies have come forward to help us carry out our mission of forestry education.

Ways to Help at Hopkins

Become a Friend of Hopkins

- Support the mission at Hopkins through Membership and Donations
- Our annual budget is primarily supported by donations and grants

Volunteer

- Attend monthly Community Forestry Workdays
- Work on special projects close to your heart

We rely on donations and volunteers to make Hopkins a success.

Come See for Yourself!

Hopkins Demonstration Forest is a non-profit outdoor educational facility, founded in 1990 by Forests Forever, Inc. to provide learning opportunities for woodland owners and students and visitors of all ages to learn. Here we provide educators and programs to teach sustainable forestry management, fire prevention and defensible space measures, stream and wetlands protection, and fish and wildlife enhancement. Five miles of trails provide outdoor recreational opportunities throughout the forest with interpretive signing. The historic Molalla Log House and Clatskanie Fire Lookout Tower provide visitors an opportunity to learn about our cultural heritage related to the forest.

Everett Hall is a lodge-like meeting hall in the forest, with an outdoor patio with expansive views of the forest. It has kitchen facilities and audio-visual technology for community meetings and special events. We also operate our own sawmill to mill lumber for building projects such as the educational Outreach Center, picnic shelters, outdoor amphitheater and educational kiosks.

Hopkins is open dawn until dusk every day of the year, at no cost to the public.

Who We Are?

We are a 140-acre privately-owned forest open to the public for self-guided exploration, tours, workshops, and education programs. Five miles of trails crisscross our woodland, connecting you with a variety of habitats and forestry demonstrations. Enjoy a peaceful walk on our Watershed Trail to see how we manage the riparian area to protect water quality in Little Buckner Creek. Families and groups enjoy the Cedar Grove Picnic Shelter, while Scouts and schools like to meet in our amphitheater. There's something for everyone and something different in every season at the Hopkins Demonstration Forest where learning and growing go hand in hand.

What Do We Do?

The Hopkins Demonstration Forest is one of the most unique places in America. Nowhere in the country will you find a forest managed with the help of the community. Over 15,000 people come to Hopkins every year to hike and walk the trails, enjoy the forest, to learn about caring for woodlands and stewardship of the land, and to volunteer. We offer designed education programs (led by Oregon State University) for 4,000-5,000 school children each year about our forest and how forests are sustainably managed.

How Can You Help?

Help support the educational program at the Hopkins Demonstration Forest by becoming a Friend of Hopkins! Memberships begin at just $25. If we all just give a little, we all can have a huge impact for the community. Friends of Hopkins donations help to maintain our trails & facilities, manage our forest and support our education program for students, teachers, and the community.

Friends of Hopkins receive our quarterly Grouse Hollow newsletter and invitations to special events throughout the year. A Hopkins water bottle is included with your new membership.

Become a Friend of Hopkins TODAY and share the important story about our forests in the community!
